14. (1) For the purpose of ascertaining the total income of any person there shall be deducted all outgoings and expenses incurred by such person during the year preceding the year of assessment to the extent to which such outgoings and expenses were wholly and exclusively incurred in the production of the income, including -

- (e) any sum contributed by an employer to a pension, saving, provident or any other society or fund which may be approved by the Commissioner as may be prescribed;
- (f) a deduction in respect of the wear and tear of any plant and machinery, and any premises being an industrial building or structure, arising out of the use or employment of such property in the production of the income; and where such property is employed on such terms that the burden of wear and tear thereof falls upon the person making use of the property in the production of the income, but such property does not belong to him, he shall be entitled to any deduction to which he would have been entitled had the property belonged to him:

Provided that -

- (i) the amount to be deducted in respect of premises being an industrial building or structure shall not exceed two per cent of the cost thereof, not including the cost of the land on which the

- building or structure is erected;
- (ii) where the total deductions allowable under this paragraph and under paragraph (j) cannot be given effect to in full in any year because there are no profits or gains chargeable for that year from the source of income in respect of which they are allowable or because the profits or gains chargeable from that source are less than the deductions, the deductions or such part of the deductions to which effect has not been given, shall be added to the deduction for wear and tear in respect of that source for the following year and deemed to be part of that deduction, or if there is no such deduction in respect of that source for that year, be deemed to be the deduction for that year and so on for subsequent years;

Provided that nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as permitting the set off of any loss incurred outside Malta which, if it had been a profit and had been retained outside Malta, would not have been chargeable to tax under this Act;

- (h) any expenditure on scientific research incurred by a person engaged in any trade, business, profession or vocation and proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been incurred for the use and benefit of the trade, business, profession or vocation:

making of a claim by another company, hereinafter referred to as "the claimant company", be allowed to the claimant company as a deduction called "group relief". A claim made by virtue of this sub-article is hereinafter referred to as a "group claim".

(2) Group relief shall be available where the surrendering company and the claimant company are both members of the same group throughout the year preceding the year of assessment for which the relief is claimed.

(3) For any year of assessment, two or more claimant companies may make group claims relating to the same surrendering company.

(4) A payment for group relief -

Provided that where the surrendering company makes up accounts and pays tax in a currency other than that of the claimant company any loss surrendered shall be set off against the total income of the claimant company as aforesaid, after such amount is converted to the currency in which the claimant company makes up accounts and pays tax. Such conversion shall be carried out by reference to the mean rate or rates of exchange between such currency or currencies and the Maltese Lira ruling on the last day of the accounting period to which such loss refers as issued by the Central Bank of Malta.

(b) A surrendering company may surrender allowable losses by way of group relief in excess of the total income of the claimant company in the year preceding a year of assessment, in which case the claimant company may carry forward and set off those losses in accordance with the provisions of article 14(1)(g) as if they were losses of its own trade.

(c) Where the allowable loss, had it been a profit, would have been allocated to the Maltese taxed account of the surrendering company, the claimant company may only deduct such loss from its total income as would stand to be allocated to its Maltese taxed account and such loss may only be carried forward against the claimant company's total income arising in subsequent years as would stand to be allocated to its Maltese taxed account.

(d) Where the allowable loss, had it been a profit, would have been allocated to the foreign income account of the surrendering company, the claimant company may only deduct such loss from its total income as would stand to be allocated to its foreign income account and such loss may only be carried forward against the claimant company's total income arising in subsequent years as would stand to be allocated to its foreign income account.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of sub-article (1), a company which is either -

- (a) newly incorporated and at all times after its incorporation satisfies the conditions to be deemed a member of the same group of companies as another company in the year preceding a year of assessment and has the same accounting period end date as that other company in that year preceding the year of assessment, or
- (b) wound up part way through its accounting period and until it is so wound up satisfied the conditions to be deemed a member of the same group as another company in the year preceding a year of assessment and has the same accounting period start date as that other company in that year preceding the year of assessment, will be deemed for the purposes of sub-article (1)(a) to have an accounting period which begins and ends on the same date as that of the other company and group relief shall be available in full for that year.

19. If, apart from this article, a company is a member of a group of companies, and arrangements are in existence the sole or main purpose of which is to reduce any company's tax liability, and by virtue of the said arrangements that company would cease to be a member of that group of companies, then that company shall be treated as not being a member of that group of companies for any year preceding a year of assessment in which the said arrangements are in existence.

23. (1) Where any person engaged in trade or business derives gains or profits wholly or in part from the sale or disposal of petroleum produced in Malta or of rights and interests pertaining to such petroleum, then, so far as concerns the gains or profits derived by such person from the sale or disposal of such petroleum or of rights and interests pertaining thereto, the total income of such person shall be ascertained by deducting all outgoings and expenses, wholly and exclusively incurred during the year immediately preceding the year of assessment by such person in the production of the income, and properly attributable thereto, whether incurred in Malta or elsewhere, including, but without in any way limiting the generality of the foregoing, the following:

- (a) rents and emphyteutical ground-rents paid or payable for the enjoyment by the person of any right in or over any land in Malta or in or over any part of the continental shelf excluding any expenditure of a capital nature incurred for the acquisition of rights of ownership and easements:

Provided that in cases of acquisition of rights of ownership and easements an appropriate yearly rental shall be allowed as a deduction;
- (b) royalties in cash or in kind and/or other exactions of a like nature;

Where in any year immediately preceding the year of assessment an asset which qualifies for an allowance under this paragraph (f) is lost, sold or otherwise disposed of, no annual allowance shall be given in respect of such asset for that year of assessment, but in lieu thereof there shall be given an allowance, to be called a "balancing allowance", in respect of such asset equal to the excess of the depreciated value of such asset over the proceeds, if any, arising on the loss, sale or disposal thereof; provided that where the proceeds arising on the loss, sale or disposal of such asset exceed the depreciated value thereof, the excess, limited to the differences between the cost and the depreciated value of such asset, shall be added to the gains or profits of the person for the year immediately preceding the year of assessment;

- (g) any sum contributed by the person as employer to a pension, saving, provident or any other society or fund which may be approved by the Commissioner as may be prescribed;

- (i) the cost of training citizens of Malta for the purpose of the carrying on of the operations of the person in Malta:

Provided that the Minister responsible for finance may, on any ground which to him may seem sufficient, allow the deduction of payments of a voluntary nature wholly and exclusively incurred in the year immediately preceding the year of assessment by the person in the production of the income and properly attributable thereto.

(2) Any expenditure incurred on or after the 1st April, 1969, wholly and exclusively for the purposes of a trade or business to which this article 23 applies and properly attributable thereto by a person about to carry on such trade or business, shall be treated for the purposes of this article 23 as if it had been incurred by that person on the first day on which he does carry it on.

(3) Nothing hereinbefore contained shall be construed as authorising the inclusion in the above mentioned outgoings and expenses of interest on capital.

(4) Where in any year immediately preceding the year of assessment the outgoings and expenses referred to in sub-article (1) wholly and exclusively incurred in the production of the income of the year immediately preceding the year of assessment and properly attributable thereto exceed such income, the excess shall be carried forward and deducted in arriving at the total income of the next and subsequent years of assessment up to a maximum of ten years.

- (b) is destroyed; or

and the event in question occurs before the source of income in respect of which the deduction has been allowed has ceased to exist or to belong to the said person, he shall, in the year of assessment, render to the Commissioner, at the same time as he renders his return of income under article 10 of the Income Tax Management Act, a statement (hereinafter referred to as a "balancing statement"), in respect of the property in question showing the following items, that is to say:

Cap. 372.

- (i) the amount of the capital expenditure on the provision thereof; and
- (ii) the total depreciation which has occurred by reason of wear and tear since the date of the acquisition of such property, taking into account the aggregate amount of all deductions previously allowed under the provisions of article 14(1)(f) and (j) and of any deductions or charges previously allowed or made under sub-article (2)(a) or (b);
- (iii) the amount of all sale, insurance, salvage or compensation monies in respect thereof and, where the property has been transferred by exchange, the value thereof, or, if put out of use, the disposal value thereof.

(2) In ascertaining the total income of a person who is required under sub-article (1) to render a balancing statement to the Commissioner, a deduction (hereinafter referred to as a "balancing allowance") shall be allowed or, as the case may be, an addition

(hereinafter referred to as a "balancing charge") shall be made and such balancing allowance or balancing charge shall be calculated by reference to the balancing statement or statements rendered by the person in respect of the year immediately preceding the year of assessment, as follows:

- (a) the amount of a balancing allowance shall be the amount by which the amount of item (i) of the balancing statement exceeds the sum of the amounts of item (ii) and item (iii) of that statement; or
- (b) the amount of the balancing charge shall be the amount by which the sum of the amounts of item (ii) and item (iii) of the balancing statement exceeds the amount of item (i) of that statement:

Provided that -

- (i) the balancing charge shall in no case exceed the aggregate amount of any deductions previously allowed under the provisions of article 14(1)(f) and (j) and included in item (ii) of the balancing statement;
- (ii) where the property in respect of which a balancing allowance falls to be allowed or a balancing charge falls to be made was used only partly in the production of the income, only so much of the balancing allowance that would otherwise have been allowed, or of the balancing charge that would otherwise have been made shall be allowed or made as may be appropriate having regard to the extent of use for the said purpose.

(3) Where property, in the case of which any of the events mentioned in sub-article (1) has occurred, is replaced by the owner thereof and a balancing charge falls to be made on him by reason of that event or, but for the provisions of this sub-article, would have fallen to be made on him by reason thereof, then, if by notice in writing to the Commissioner he so elects, the following provisions shall have effect, that is to say:

- (a) if the amount of the balancing charge which would have been made is greater than the capital expenditure on providing the new property -
 - (i) the balancing charge shall be an amount equal to the difference; and
 - (ii) no balancing allowance under sub-article (2) and no deduction under article 14(1)(f) and (j) shall be made or allowed in respect of such new property or the capital expenditure on the provision thereof; and
 - (iii) in considering whether any, and, if so, what balancing charge falls to be made in respect of the capital expenditure on providing such new property, the aggregate amount of all deductions, previously allowed in respect of such property under the provisions of this article and of article 14(1)(f) and (j), shall be deemed to be equal to the full amount of such expenditure;

- (b) if the capital expenditure on providing the new property is equal to, or greater than the amount of the balancing charge that would have been made -
- (i) the balancing charge shall not be made; and
 - (ii) the amount of any deductions in respect of the said expenditure under the provisions of article 14(1)(f) and (j) shall be calculated as if the capital expenditure on providing such new property had been reduced by the amount of the balancing charge which would have been made; and
 - (iii) in considering whether any, and, if so, what balancing allowance or balancing charge falls to be made in respect of the capital expenditure on providing such new property, the aggregate amount of all deductions, previously allowed in respect of such property under the provisions of this article and under article 14(1)(f) and (j), shall be deemed to have been increased by an amount equal to the amount of the balancing charge that would have been made:

Provided that where the new property is only partly employed in the production of the income, only so much of the capital expenditure incurred in providing the property shall be taken into account for the purposes of this sub-article as may be appropriate having regard to the extent to which such property is wholly and exclusively employed in the production of the income.

(4) Where any person has delivered a balancing statement, the Commissioner may -

- (a) accept the statement and make a balancing allowance or balancing charge accordingly; or
- (b) refuse to accept the statement and, to the best of his judgment, determine the amount of the balancing allowance or balancing charge and make a balancing allowance or balancing charge accordingly.

(5) Where a person has not delivered a balancing statement and the Commissioner is of the opinion that a balancing charge would fall to be made upon such person in respect of any such property, then the Commissioner may, according to the best of his judgment, determine the amount of such balancing charge and assess him accordingly.

(6) Nothing in sub-article (4) and (5) contained shall prevent the decision of the Commissioner in the exercise of the power conferred upon him by those sub-articles from being questioned in an appeal in accordance with the provisions of articles 35 and 37 of the Income Tax Management Act.

- (7) For the purpose of this article -
- (a) the expression "property" means plant and machinery, and premises being an industrial building or structure owned and employed by any person in the production of his income;
 - (b) the capital expenditure on providing any property shall be the amount which, in the opinion of the Commissioner, such property would have cost if bought in the open market at the time it was provided;
 - (c) the price in respect of any property sold or the value of any property otherwise transferred under an onerous title shall be the amount which, in the opinion of the Commissioner, such property would have fetched if sold or otherwise transferred under an onerous title on the open market at the time it was sold or transferred;
 - (d) the disposal value in respect of any property which is put out of use shall be the amount which, in the opinion of the Commissioner, such property would have fetched if sold or otherwise transferred under an onerous title in the open market at the time it was put out of use.

(8) Where in any year of assessment full effect cannot be given to any balancing allowance owing to there being no profits or gains chargeable for that year from the source of income in respect of which such allowance is claimed or owing to the profits or gains chargeable from that source being less than the allowances, then so long as the source of income in respect of which the allowance falls to be made continues to exist and to belong to the person entitled to the said allowance, the balance of such allowance shall be added to, and be deemed to form part of, the allowance, if any, for the next succeeding year of assessment, and if no such allowance falls to be made for that year, shall be deemed to constitute the allowance for that year, and so on for subsequent years of assessment.

- (2) (a) Where, in relation to a contract of long term business, a determinable amount becomes due by an insurer on or after the first day of January, 1999, and the policyholder is a person resident in Malta, the insurer shall pay tax at the rate of fifteen per cent (15%) on the profit attributable to such contract which profit shall be deemed to have accrued during the period from the first day of January, 1999, or the date when the contract was commenced, whichever date is the later, to the date on which the amount becomes due.

For the purposes of this sub-article "a determinable amount" means an amount payable by an insurer in the event of a maturity, surrender or in any other circumstance, other than a death claim, specified in the contract, as the case may be, where the total amount payable can be determined in whole or in part on the date it becomes due and whether payment is effected in one lump sum or otherwise.

- (b) (i) The profit referred to in paragraph (a) shall be calculated by taking the total determinable amount due to be paid by the insurer and subtracting therefrom the total amount of premiums paid within the period referred to in paragraph (a), and in those cases where the contract commenced before the first day of January, 1999, subtracting also an amount equal to the actuarial valuation of the contract on this date. Provided that where any person has been assessed for any year of assessment by reference to such percentage, he shall be entitled to claim at any time within six years after the end of such year of assessment that his liability to tax for that year be recomputed on the basis provided by sub-article (2).

- (d) where the tax is reduced in accordance with the provisions of this sub-article, it shall be further reduced by the amount of any contribution paid by the individual under the Social Security Act during the period in which the relative work or duties are carried out.

Cap. 318.

(18) The tax on the income referred to in article 4(6) shall be at the rate of ten cents on every lira thereof, and, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Act, no set-off or refund shall be granted to any person in respect of the tax so charged.

Provided that where the said activities are exercised in Malta for a period exceeding fifteen days, the non-resident person shall declare his income from entertainment activities in a return made in accordance with the Income Tax Acts and he will be charged on such income at the rates laid down in subarticle (1)(c), and in any such case any tax paid on such income in accordance with this article shall be available as a credit against that person's tax liability and where any tax so paid is in excess of such liability it shall be refunded.

(19) Notwithstanding the other provisions of this article, but without prejudice to those of sub-article (12), the Minister responsible for finance may, in the interests of economic expediency, direct by notice published in the Gazette, that:

- (a) in the case of small assessments charging tax not exceeding an amount specified in the said notice, the assessment shall not be raised; and
- (b) in determining the chargeable income and the amount of tax due by any person and in allowing any set-offs, the Commissioner may round up or down any amount to the nearest lira.

(20)(a) Where a member of a company resident in Malta is a resident of a State or territory with which Malta has made an arrangement under the provisions of this Act for the grant of relief from double taxation, and under that arrangement a dividend, or part thereof, distributed by such a company is subject to income tax in Malta at a rate lower than that chargeable on the income out of which the dividend is distributed, such company shall be entitled to require that the gains or profits, or part thereof, derived by it for the year of assessment 2001 and for subsequent years of assessment and which are distributable by way of dividend subject to tax at a lower rate as aforesaid shall, notwithstanding that the dividend, or part thereof has not been distributed, be taxed at the said reduced rate and not at the rate properly chargeable under this Act on the gains or profits of the company:

(b) Where the provisions of paragraph (a) have been applied and subsequently there is a change in the shareholding of the company in consequence of which the new shareholders will not be entitled to a reduced rate of tax under any arrangement as aforesaid or if so entitled the rate applicable in such arrangement is more than the rate applicable to the outgoing shareholder, then any profits which have not been distributed at the end of the last financial year of the company preceding the date of change in shareholding less any profit distributions made to the outgoing shareholder in the current financial year shall be taxed at a rate being the difference between the rate of tax which would be applicable had the new shareholder held the shares when such profits were earned, and the rate actually applied, and such tax shall be a tax payable by the company in the year of assessment in which such profits are distributed:

Provided that where a member of a company is also a company incorporated under Maltese law, the provisions of this article shall apply to the same extent as if the members of the latter company had owned the shares directly in the company.

Provided that where tax is not paid or payable by the company on the whole income out of which the dividend is paid, the deduction shall be restricted to that portion of the dividend which is paid out of income on which tax is paid or payable by the company.

(b) (i) Every collective investment scheme shall be entitled to deduct from the amount of any dividend, other than a dividend paid out of distributable profits allocated to the untaxed account, paid to any shareholder, a tax at the rate paid, payable or suffered by the collective investment scheme, whichever rate is the highest, relief of double taxation being left out of account, on the income out of which such dividend is paid:

Provided that where tax is not paid, payable or suffered by the collective investment scheme on the whole income out of which the dividend is paid, the deduction shall be restricted to that portion of the dividend which is paid out of income on which tax is paid, payable or suffered by the collective investment scheme.

- (ii) The provisions of article 31 shall apply to the income of a person arising from a dividend referred to in sub-paragraph (i).

(2) Where in respect of any year of assessment the rate of tax chargeable under article 56 upon the chargeable income of a company is increased and any company constituted under the law in force in Malta or resident in Malta has, before the date of the commencement of the enactment imposing the increased rate of tax, deducted from a dividend paid to a shareholder (hereinafter in this sub-article referred to as "the original dividend") tax at a rate lower than that paid or payable by the company for that year in respect of the income out of which such dividend is paid, the company shall be entitled -

- (a) on the occasion of the next payment of dividend by the company (hereinafter in this sub-article referred to as "the next dividend"), to make up from that dividend the amount of such under-deduction in addition to making any other deduction which the company is entitled to make from that dividend, irrespective of whether or not the person who is entitled to the next dividend, is the person who was entitled to the original dividend; or
- (b) with the written permission of the Commissioner, to recover from the person to whom the original dividend was paid the amount of such under-deduction (which shall be specified in such written permission) as if such amount were a debt due to the company; and in any proceedings for the recovery of such amount, such written permission shall be evidence of such debt, and proof of the Commissioner's signature upon such written permission shall not be required unless the court for special cause directs otherwise.

(3) Where in respect of any year of assessment any company constituted under the law in force in Malta or resident in Malta, not being a company referred to in sub-article (1)(b), has deducted from a dividend paid to a shareholder (hereinafter in this sub-article referred to as "the original dividend") tax at a rate higher than that paid or payable by the company for that year in respect of the income out of which such dividend is paid, then, unless the company has paid the amount of such over-deduction in accordance with the provisions of sub-article (4), the company shall, on the occasion of the next payment of dividend by the company (hereinafter in this sub-article referred to as "the next dividend") make good such amount by a reduction of the amount of tax deducted by the company from that dividend, irrespective of whether or not the person who is entitled to the next dividend is the person who was entitled to the original dividend.

(4) Where any such company has, in paying a dividend to a shareholder, made such an over-deduction as is mentioned in sub-article (3), the company shall, within fourteen days from the tax return date relevant to the income out of which such dividend was paid, render an account to the Commissioner of the amount of such over-deduction and the Commissioner may, at any time after such account has been rendered as aforesaid but before such over-deduction has been made good in accordance with the provisions of sub-article (3), by notice in writing served upon the company, require the company to pay such amount to the Commissioner and such amount shall thereupon become a debt due to the Government, payable within one month from the date of service of such notice, and shall be recovered as such.

- (5) (a) Every company shall upon payment of a dividend, whether tax is deducted therefrom or not, furnish the shareholder with a dividend certificate.
- (b) The dividend certificate shall be in such form as the Commissioner shall require and shall show, in respect of the dividend distributed to the particular shareholder, the following information:

 - (iv) the tax payable on distribution pursuant to articles 62, 67 and 67A which shall be shown

- separately from the tax referred to in subparagraph (ii);
- (v) the net amount of the dividend paid to the shareholder;
 - (vi) where the tax paid or payable by the company on the profits so being distributed is affected by relief of double taxation, the rate, hereinafter in this Act referred to as "the net Malta rate", of the tax paid or payable by the company after taking relief of double taxation into account;
 - (vii) where the profits being distributed have been exempt from tax and the distribution of such profits by the company is exempt from tax in the hands of the shareholder, a note quoting the relevant law giving such exemption;
 - (viii) where the profits being distributed by a company (the first company) include a dividend received from another company (the second company), in respect of which the first company is entitled to make a claim for a refund under article 48(4) of the Income Tax Management Act, in respect of the tax paid thereon by the second company, a statement declaring that the first company is entitled to make such a claim in respect of those distributed profits;

Provided that where the Commissioner gives a certificate in writing that to the best of his belief the total income of a recipient will be less than the minimum liable to income tax or, in the case of a person other than a company, such income will be liable to a rate of income tax less than twenty-five per cent, the company shall, until such certificate is cancelled by the Commissioner, pay the debenture interest or interest on any other loan without deduction or deduct tax at such less rate as the case may be.

(7) Every such company shall upon payment of such interest furnish each person to whom such payment is made with a certificate setting forth the amount of the interest paid to him and the amount of the tax which the company has deducted from such interest.

77. (1) The provisions of this article shall have effect where, under arrangements having effect under article 76, tax payable in respect of any income in the territory with the Government of which the arrangements are made is to be allowed as a credit against tax payable in respect of that income in Malta; and in this article the expression "foreign tax" means any tax payable in that territory which under the arrangements is to be so allowed and the expression "income tax" means tax charged on the chargeable income at the rates laid down in Part VII of this Act.

(2) The amount of the income tax chargeable in respect of the income shall be reduced by the amount of the credit:

Provided that credit shall not be allowed against income tax for any year of assessment unless the person entitled to the income is resident in Malta for the year immediately preceding the year of assessment.

(3) The credit shall not exceed the amount which would be produced by computing the amount of the income in accordance with the provisions of this Act and then charging it to income tax at a rate ascertained by dividing the income tax chargeable (before allowance or credit under any arrangements having effect under article 76) on the total income of the person entitled to the income by the amount of his total income.

(4) Without prejudice to the provisions of the preceding sub-article, the total credit to be allowed to a person for any year of assessment for foreign tax under all arrangements having effect under article 76 shall not exceed the total income tax payable by him for that year of assessment, less any tax payable by him under the provisions of articles 40, 69 and 73.

(5) In computing the amount of the income -

- (a) no deduction shall be allowed in respect of foreign tax (whether in respect of the same or any other income);
- (b) where the income tax chargeable depends on the amount received in Malta the said amount shall be increased by the appropriate amount of the foreign tax in respect of the income;
- (c) where the income includes a dividend and under the arrangements foreign tax not chargeable directly or by deduction in respect of the dividend is to be taken into account in considering whether any, and if so what, credit is to be given against income tax in respect of the dividend the amount of the income shall be increased by the amount of the foreign tax not so chargeable which falls to be taken into account in computing the amount of the credit.

(6) Paragraphs (a) and (b) of the preceding sub-article (but not the remainder thereof) shall apply to the computation of the total income for the purpose of determining the rate mentioned in sub-article (3), and shall apply thereto in relation to all income in the case of which credit falls to be given for foreign tax under arrangements for the time being in force under article 76.

(7) Where -

- (a) the arrangements provide, in relation to dividends of some classes, but not in relation to dividends of other classes, that foreign tax not chargeable directly or by deduction in respect of dividends is to be taken into account in considering whether any, and if so what, credit is to be given against income tax in respect of the dividends, and
- (b) a dividend is paid which is not of a class in relation to which the arrangements so provide, then, if the dividend is paid to a company which controls, directly or indirectly, not less than one-half of the voting power in the company paying the dividend, credit shall be allowed as if the dividend were a dividend of a class in relation to which the arrangements so provide.

(8) Credit shall not be allowed under the arrangements against income tax chargeable in respect of the income of any person for any year of assessment if he elects that credit shall not be allowed in the case of his income for that year.

(9) Any claim for an allowance by way of credit shall be made not later than two years after the end of the year of assessment to which the claim refers, and in the event of any dispute as to the amount allowable the claim shall be subject to objection and appeal in like manner as an assessment.

(10) Where the amount of any credit given under the arrangements is rendered excessive or insufficient by reason of any adjustment of the amount of any tax payable either in Malta or elsewhere, nothing in this Act limiting the time for the making of returns, assessment or claims for relief shall apply to any return, assessment or claim to which the adjustment gives rise, being a return, assessment or claim made not later than two years from the time when all such assessments, adjustments and other determination have been made, whether in Malta or elsewhere, as are material in determining whether any, and if so what, credit falls to be given.

- (a) if no tax is chargeable on the recipient in respect of the dividend, the reduction shall be an amount equal to tax on the gross dividend at the rate of double taxation relief applicable thereto;
- (b) if the rate of tax chargeable on the recipient in respect of the dividend is less than the rate of double taxation relief applicable to the dividend, the reduction shall be an amount equal to tax on the gross dividend at the difference between those two rates.

(2) For the purpose of this article -

- (a) if the income of the person chargeable includes one dividend such as is mentioned in the preceding sub-article, that dividend shall be deemed to be the highest part of his total income;
- (b) if his income includes more than one such dividend a dividend shall be deemed to be a higher part of his total income than another dividend if the net Malta rate applicable to the former dividend is lower than that applicable to the latter dividend;
- (c) where tax is chargeable at different rates in respect of different parts of any such dividend, or where tax is chargeable in respect of some part of any such dividend and is not chargeable in respect of some other part thereof, each part shall be deemed to be a separate dividend;
- (d) the expression "double taxation relief" has the same meaning as in article 59 and the expression "the rate of double taxation relief" means the rate which represents the excess of the rate of tax deductible from the dividend over the net Malta rate applicable thereto.

- (b) a company is related to the overseas company if the overseas company controls, directly or indirectly, not less than 10% of the voting power of the related company.

(4) For the purposes of sub-article (3) hereof where an individual's annual wages or salary from his full time employment exceed such amount over which he would become liable to tax, or where in the previous year his total income rendered him liable to tax, his projected total income for the relevant year will be expected to exceed such sum over which he would become liable to

 - (iii) in the case of a third omission, five per cent per month of the endangered tax;

4. When an omission from a return is rectified by a person by means of the delivery of a further return made in accordance with article 13 of the Income Tax Management Act, before that person is notified in writing by the Commissioner that an enquiry will be conducted into that person's tax declarations and liabilities, the additional tax chargeable under article 56(12)(c) for that omission shall be at the rate of zero point seventy-five per cent (0.75%) per month of the endangered tax.

9. When a person to whom article 12 of the Income Tax Act applies files a declaration prescribed for the making of an election under that article after the date prescribed therefor, he shall for the purposes of article 56(12)(c) and of this Schedule be deemed to have made a default in furnishing a return and that default shall continue until a return is furnished.

10. (a) Notwithstanding the other provisions of this Schedule, where the Commissioner is satisfied that a default in furnishing a return was due to a reasonable excuse he shall remit the whole of the additional tax otherwise due in accordance with the other provisions of this Schedule:

Provided that:

- (i) an insufficiency of funds to pay any tax due, or
- (ii) when reliance is placed on any other person to perform any task, the fact of that reliance or any dilatoriness or inaccuracies on the part of the person relied upon, shall not constitute a reasonable excuse for the purpose of this paragraph.

(b) The use of the Commissioner's discretion for the purpose of this item shall not be questioned in any appeal.
